ANALYSIS OF FOREIGN TRADE IN NUTS

The foreign trade of the United States in edible nuts has always consisted almost entirely of imports. Exports of domestic nuts have been confined to peanuts, but even in this case imports have greatly exceeded exports. During the last ten years the consumption of nuts in the United States has been increasing. Production has increased also but not as much as consumption. Imports of nuts during the five-year period 1925-1929 were double the quantity purchased from abroad during the five years 1910-1914. During the same period the production of the principal commercial nuts in the United States increased in the aggregate almost 90 per cent. For the individual nuts the increases were: about 75 per cent for peanuts, 175 per cent for walnuts, and 455 per cent for almonds. The principal sources of nuts imported into the United States are: France, Italy, Rumania and China for walnuts; Spain and Italy for almonds; China for peanuts; Spain, Italy and Turkey for filberts.

ALMONDS - Some of our earliest records list almonds among the import items and the imports have advanced from only a few thousand pounds during 1904 to 62,263,000 pounds during 1929. Average imports during 1925-1929 amounted to 50,804,000 pounds as compared with an average of 44,000,000 pounds during 1910-1914, an increase of 13 per cent. The Mediterranean countries supply close to 95 per cent of the almonds purchased from abroad. In earlier years the major portion of the almonds came in as unshelled nuts but at the present time nearly 95 per cent of the imports are shelled.

CHESTNUTS - During 1925-1929 imports averaged 23,256,000 pounds as compared with 12,010,000 pounds before the war, an increase of 91 per cent. Italy supplies at least 90 per cent of imports.

CRELLI AND BRAZIL NUTS - Practically all of the nuts of that name come from Brazil, average net imports during the last 5 years amounting to 30,750,000 pounds, a gain of 50 per cent over the pre-war average.

FILBERTS - Spain, Italy and Turkey furnish us with large quantities of filberts. Average net imports during 1910-1914 amounted to 13,111,000 pounds as compared with 23,083,000 pounds during the last 5 years or an increase of 76 per cent.

PEANUTS - Though the United States exports peanuts in considerable volume, the imports greatly exceed exports, net imports during 1925-1929 amounting to 77,111,000 pounds or more than double the average net imports before the war. As in the case of almonds, most of the imported peanuts are shelled. At least 90 per cent of our imports come from China, a small part of which are unshelled nuts shipped by way of Japan.

PECANS - The downward trend in imports of pecans noted since 1910 reflects the remarkable expansion in the domestic production. Receipts of foreign grown pecans dropped from an average of 2,543,000 pounds during 1910-1914 to 1,174,000 pounds during 1925-1929, a decrease of 54 per cent.

WALNUTS - More than half of the walnuts received from overseas are unshelled nuts. Italy and China send us large quantities of both shelled and unshelled nuts, while most of the shelled nuts come from France. During 1925-1929, net imports of walnuts averaged 60,201,000 pounds, an increase of 47 per cent over 1910-1914 average, when 40,455,000 pounds were received from foreign sources.

TRADE WITH ALASKA, HAWAII AND PORTO RICO - The trade in nuts between the United States and these outlying possessions is small and unimportant.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

DOMESTIC EXPORTS - Goods produced or manufactured in this country from either domestic or imported raw materials and which are shipped to foreign countries. The kind, quantity and value of exported merchandise are ascertained from the shipper's export declarations filed by the exporters with the collector of customs at the port of exportation.

Include exports to the Philippine Islands and Virgin Islands of the United States. Since 1902, exclude shipments from continental United States to Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

1790 - 1902 - Includes reexports or exports of foreign merchandise.

IMPORTS, GENERAL - Embrace articles entered at the customhouses for immediate consumption and imported articles entered for warehouse. Include imports from the Philippine Islands and Virgin Islands of the United States. Since 1902, exclude shipments to the United States from Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

IMPORTS FOR CONSUMPTION - Embrace articles entered for immediate consumption and imported articles withdrawn from warehouse for consumption. The statement of general imports and the statement of imports entered for consumption for any period will always differ to the extent that the value of entries for warehouse for the period differs from the value of withdrawals from warehouse for consumption. The term "entry for consumption" is the technical name of the import entry made at the customhouse and implies that the goods have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion. Some of them may be afterward exported. Imports for consumption were first reported in 1867 and published in 1868.

KIND, QUANTITY AND VALUE OF IMPORTS - The kind, quantity and value of imported merchandise are ascertained from the entry filed by the importer at the customhouse.

The value of imported merchandise as shown in the statistical tables is the foreign value or the export value, whichever is higher; that is, the market value or the price at which the merchandise, at the time of exportation to the United States is offered for sale in the principal markets of the country from which exported, including the cost of containers or coverings and all expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment to the United States.

REEXPORTS OR EXPORTS OF FOREIGN MERCHANDISE - Goods which have been imported into this country either for reexport or consumption and are afterward exported having undergone no change in form or condition or enhancement in value by application of labor in the United States.

1790-1902 - Combined with domestic exports.

NET EXPORTS - Domestic exports and reexports minus imports.

NET IMPORTS - Imports minus domestic exports and reexports.

AVERAGE EXPORT VALUE PER UNIT - These have been computed by dividing the total export value each year by the total quantity and are not to be regarded as a quotation of prices.

The value upon which a given average in this table was based is composed of items which represent shipments possibly of different grades of the articles mentioned from different parts of the United States and at different seasons of the year. The actual value of any one shipment included in this total is its value at the time and place of exportation.

CONVERSION FACTORS -

ALMONDS - 5-1/3 pounds in the shell are the equivalent of 1 pound of shelled or 30 per cent of nuts in the shell equal kernel.

BRAZIL - 42.35 per cent of nuts in the shell equal kernel.

FILBERTS - 45 per cent of nuts in the shell equals kernel.

PELNUITS - 66-2/3 per cent of nuts in the shell equal kernel.

WALNUTS - 42 per cent of nuts in the shell equal kernel.

YEARS - For years end as follows: September 30, 1790 - 1842; nine months, October 1, 1842 - June 30, 1843; June 30, 1844-1922.

ELLIPSIS - Indicate no information exists but do not necessarily signify that, there were no reports for that period as they may have been included with "all other" or with the "unenumerated."

NONCONTIGUOUS TERRITORY - In the statistics of foreign commerce of the United States, the Philippine Islands and Virgin Islands of the United States are treated as foreign countries.

The statistics of foreign commerce include the trade of the customs districts of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico with foreign countries (but since 1902 do not include the trade of these territories with the United States.

In 1903, the trade with Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico was for the first time fully and definitely recorded (see Commerce and Navigation of the United States, 1903, Vol. 1, page 31). Therefore separate tables have been compiled showing shipments from the United States to Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, 1903 - 1922.

The collection of statistics of trade with all noncontiguous territory was authorized by an act of Congress, April 20, 1902.

PEANUTS: DOMESTIC EXPORTS AND IMPORTS, QUANTITY, 1900-1929

FIGURE 1 - FOLLOWING A PERIOD OF HEAVY IMPORTS BETWEEN 1917 AND 1922 EXPORTS OF PEANUTS RAPIDLY DECREASED AND ARE NOW LESS THAN THEY WERE BEFORE THE WAR. IMPORTS OF PEANUTS SHOW SOME WIDE FLUCTUATIONS, BUT A VERY DECIDED UPWARD TREND. THE BULK OF THE IMPORTED PEANUTS CONSISTS OF SHELLED NUTS

ALMONDS, WALNUTS, AND FILBERTS: NET IMPORTS OF THE UNITED STATES, QUANTITY, 1900-1929

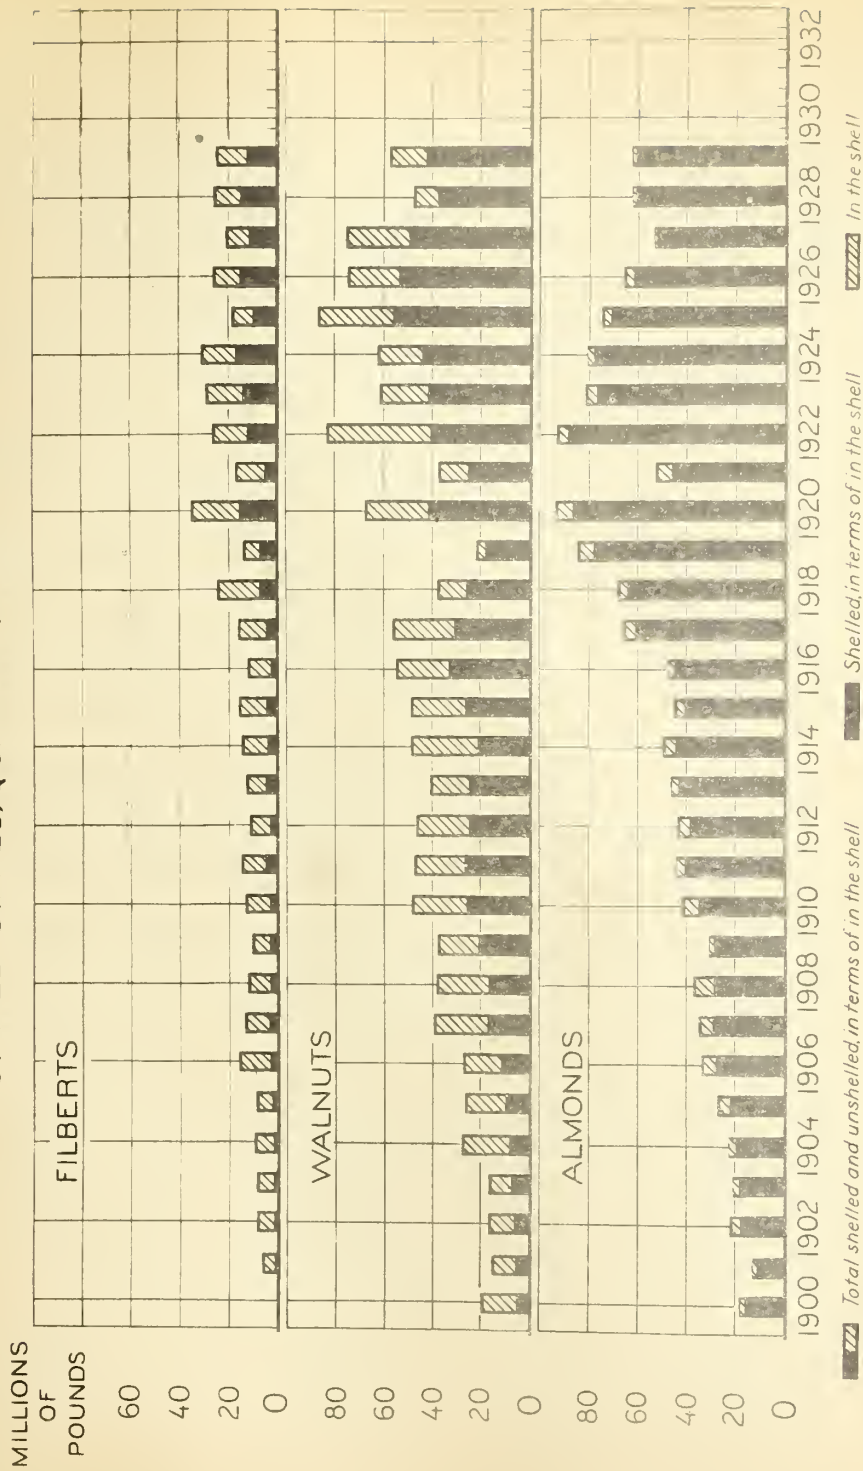

FIGURE 2 - NET IMPORTS OF ALMONDS GREW RAPIDLY REACHING THE PEAK IN 1920. LATER POST-WAR YEARS SHOW A DOWNWARD TREND BUT ARE STILL MUCH ABOVE THE PRE-WAR LEVEL. AT THE PRESENT TIME THE MAJOR PORTION COMES IN AS ALMONDS IN THE SHELL, AMOUNTING TO 95 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL IMPORTS. THE DEFINITE EXPANSION IN NET IMPORTS OF WALNUTS WHICH TOOK PLACE PRIOR TO 1926 WAS FOLLOWED BY A NOTICEABLE REDUCTION AND IMPORTS DURING THE LAST TWO YEARS WERE NOT MUCH ABOVE THE 1910-1914 AVERAGE. SINCE 1910, FROM 50 TO 75 PER CENT OF THE TOTAL IMPORTS HAVE BEEN SHELLED WALNUTS. DURING THE LAST FIVE YEARS, NET IMPORTS OF FILBERTS SHOW SOME RECESSION FROM THE HIGH POINT OF 1924 BUT ARE STILL HIGHER THAN THE 1910-1914 AVERAGE. THE PROPORTION IMPORTED AS SHELLED FILBERTS HAS STEADILY INCREASED AND IN RECENT YEARS SHELLED NUTS HAVE CONSTITUTED MORE THAN HALF THE TOTAL IMPORTS

Division of Statistical and Historical Research.

Compiled from American State Papers 1793-1820; Commerce and Navigation of the United States 1821-1917; Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States 1918; Monthly Summary of Foreign Commerce of the United States, June issues, 1919-1926; January and June issues 1927-1929 and official records of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Domestic exports not reported.

Value of imports not separately reported prior to 1834 but included with "Total fruits and nuts". Shelled and unshelled not separately reported prior to 1867. General imports 1804-1868 and 1913-1929; imports for consumption 1869-1912.

Value of reexports not separately reported prior to 1834 but included with "Total fruits and nuts". Shelled and unshelled separately reported for 1868, 1867, 1869 and 1913-1922. For all other years reported as "almonds".

3-1/3 pounds of almonds in the shell are the equivalent of 1 pound of shelled.

1/ Listed as domestic exports and include reexports. In this case probably all reexports.

2/ No report.

3/ July 1 - November 30, 1846.

4/ In terms of unshelled. Reported as 3405 pounds unshelled valued at $695.00; 2411 pounds shelled valued at $402.00.
